Description

The project reflects to the need to improve the education on development issues and global interdependences within the formal education system and the need to mobilize the broad public for more active attitude towards global issues. The overall objective of the project is to raise the awareness and critical understanding of European public on the relationship between Global South and Global North, with a focus on Environmental Justice and on sustainable ways of living, through contributing to improvement of development education in the European Formal Education System (FES). The specific objective of the project is to enhance the knowledge of education authorities, civil society and the European FES concerning their responsibility and role in development issues and to support active citizenship practices related to two specific learning issues – climate change and environmental migrations. The expected results are: R1 A stronger structured dialogue between global education and FES stakeholders (European education authorities and institutions, teachers and students). The aim of these meetings will be to design and negotiate a joint final proposal to be presented to the European Commission and to national education authorities. R2 Access and sharing of contents and of awareness raising tools on EJ at EU level. Two main tools will be developed: an Educational Kit as a learning product for schools (Act. 2.1) and a multimedia product whose targets are schools, universities, parents and the civil society at large - an online Multilanguage platform collecting the various project's products, which will also serve as an exchange platform (Act. 2.2). R3 Increased knowledge, awareness and participation of target group, stakeholders and EU citizens on the topics of EJ.
