Description

The project is prepared and adapted for the Scout youth movement, which has in Slovakia a solid membership base, long tradition, proved structure as well as rules and competencies, which are in compliance with the Global Education. Both, Global Education and Sustainable Development Goals represent educational dimensions, which would further develop activities of every day life of Scouts into correct global intervention. Expertise and competencies derived from the project, multiplication effects of the Global Education principles would support the right steps to understand the concept of the global citizenship, its obligations and responsibilities. As such, the Scouts would better understand the interdependencies of the global world, and the problems of s.c. Third World and interconnection of these problems with the local communities. The overall project objective is to contribute to the crucial role of the Scout Movement, which plays in promoting decent work for all, in expanding the understanding of the global context especially among young people and in preparing future generations to eliminate poverty, promote equality and justice in our globalized world. Specific objectives: - Introduce the concept of GE to the Scouts, themes, principles and methodology of global education to further the educational process through youth Scout leaders, - To inform and explain in a participatory process sustainable development and its application in everyday practice during scouting activities and a daily life, - To raise awareness of local communities on Sustainable Development Goals, but above all to involve community members in implementing SDGs within the framework of the ongoing normal activities of real life.
