Description

Main objective of the project: The center in Buikwe is co-operated by the promoter in cooperation with a local partner. The center focuses on the treatment of HIV, malnutrition and education of the population. The center is part of a network of anti-nutrition and HIV outpatient clinics in Uganda. The Buikwe area on Lake Victoria is characterized by a higher incidence of malnutrition and a high prevalence of HIV. The promoter of the Center financially supports and deploys its experts to manage the anti-nutrition and HIV center. A volunteer would be involved in logistical activities in meeting the main objectives of the Center. The aim of the center is: Look for malnourished children from the poorest families. To build local capacity in the social and public health areas Provide an educational and rehabilitation anti-nutritional program for malnourished children and their mothers. Provide counseling and therapeutic activities for HIV positive patients. Provide educational activities to prevent the spread of HIV and principles that are right for the local community The project provides an ideal environment for volunteering and creates sufficient conditions for this. The activities of the volunteer will be carried out under the supervision of an experienced employee of the University of St. Elizabeth. The new volunteer will be able to build on the activities undertaken by previous volunteers. The project also aims to support local capacity building, there are not enough experts and social workers in the area, and volunteer activities in cooperation with the expert will lead to the training of local experts. The project also aims to promote intercultural dialogue, foster solidarity and understanding between nations and long-term partnerships between organizations and communities in Uganda. The stay of the volunteer will be part of the preparation for work in the area of development cooperation The project also aims to support local capacity building, there are not enough experts and social workers in the area, and volunteer activities in collaboration with the expert will lead to local experts training. Detailed description of volunteer activities: The first two months of adaptation to the environment. For the next two months the volunteer will work more independently and will also participate in the individual logistics activities of the project. Volunteers, according to their classification, participate either in the daily operation of the clinic and the center and in the implementation of the social program, where they participate in the tasks of supervising patients and clients coming to treatment, informal education (basic habits, patients / clients in the program, participate in project management, planning, implementation of partial tasks set for the period of their stay.
